About the Programme

The School of Education, Central University of Himachal Pradesh is organising a one day orientation programme in collaboration with National Council of Rural Institutes to orient the youth of the university. The NSS unit of CUHP will also support in organizing this programme. The orientation programme is designed to motivate the youth for inspiring rural reconstruction.

Rural reconstruction implies renovation of the villages for the total wellbeing of the ruralites. The non-violent Swaraj of Mahatma Gandhi was based on the idea of rural reconstruction. Rural reconstruction programme entails three aspects. They are material, intellectual and moral. As far as the material aspect is concerned, rural reconstruction programme is oriented to improve the health and raise the standard of living of the ruralites. This can be achieved by encouraging better sanitation and by the provision of medical aid. As regards the intellectual aspect, educational facilities are provided to the boys, girls and adults. Information and instruction are also made available to them through the radio, newspapers, television, cinematograph, lectures and demonstrations by touring parties. The moral aspect, however, is the most fundamental. It seeks to awaken the villager from the long stupor of ages, so that he may realise his due in life as well as shake off his lethargy and work in co-operation with government agencies to ameliorate his lot. It aims at creating in him the desire for self-improvement and self-discipline by individual and collective action so that he may be freed of the inhibitions standing in the way of his self-realization.

The orientation programme will focus on the following themes of rural reconstruction such as

- ✓ Importance of community work and youth in rural reconstruction
- ✓ to improve the health and raise the standard of living of the ruralites
- ✓ Motivation of youth towards participation in co-curricular activities
- ✓ To promote the material , intellectual and moral aspects of rural reconstruction
