Seminar Report

A National Seminar on the theme Memories, Narratives and Soundscape: Forgotten Themes of Indian National Movement (स्मृतियाँ, वृतांत तथा ध्वनिदृश्य: भारतीय राष्ट्र आंदोलन के विस्मृत विषय) was organized by and at Shodh Sansthan Neri, Hamirpur, Himachal Pradesh on 4th and 5th December 2021. The Departments of History of the Central University of Himachal Pradesh, Dharamshala and Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla were the co-organizers of the seminar. Participants, which included the resource persons, paper presenters and other scholars and enthusiasts of history, came from varied parts of the country, prominently from Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Punjab, Haryana, Rajasthan, Delhi, Uttar Pradesh and Madhya Pradesh. A total of 160 participants registered for the program and 55 scholars presented their research papers in six technical sessions spanning over two days. The Indian Council for Historical Research (ICHR), New Delhi financially sponsored the seminar and two observers form ICHR, namely, Dr Vinod Kumar and Dr Nitin Kumar also graced the occasion.

The chief guest of the inaugural program of the seminar was Shri Rajendra Vishwanath Arlekar, Hon'ble Governor of Himachal Pradesh and the session was presided over by Professor Vasant Shinde, Former Vice Chancellor, Deccan College and Research Institute, Deemed University, Pune. Professor Kuldeep Chand Agnihotri, Advisor, Minister of Culture, Government of India and former Vice Chancellor, Central University of Himachal Pradesh, delivered the keynote address. Dr Kanwar Chanderdeep Singh, convenor of the national seminar, introduced the theme to the guests and the audience. In his deliverance, Prof. Agnihotri delved upon the key issues pertaining to the writing of modern Bhartiya history especially of the national movement. According to him, there were different streams along with the Indian National Congress who contributed immensely in their own capacity to unleash the anti British resistance. Prof Vasant Shinde delivered the presidential address in the virtual mode as due to ill health he was unable to come to the venue physically. While speaking on the occasion, hon'ble Governor congratulated the seminar organizers for highlighting the contribution of the unsung heroes, by the way of this academic program and he reminisced about the Goan freedom struggle, which was equally important but has been less talked about. Hon'ble Governor on the occasion released the Samarika (souvenir of the seminar) containing the abstracts of the research papers submitted by the scholars. Two other books namely, Swaraj Sangharsh mein Hmachal ke Nepathya Nayak edited by Dr Shiv Bhardwaj and Itihas Lekhan mein Lokgathaon ka Yogdan by Dr Om Prakash Sharma were also released on the occasion by the hon'ble Governor and other dignitaries.

There were four technical sessions on the first day of the seminar on 4th December 2021. Prof Narayan Singh Rao chaired the first technical session and Prof O.P. Sharma was the co-chair. There were thirteen research papers presented in the session on varied sub-themes of national and regional history. The second technical session was chaired and co-chaired by Prof. Arun Kumar Singh and Prof. Bhag Chand Chauhan respectively. Twelve research papers were read during this session.

The third technical session was held after the tea break. It was chaired by Dr Kanwar Chanderdeep Singh and co-chaired by Dr Rajeev Kumar. The researchers presented twelve research papers in this session. Dr Surendra G Soni chaired the fourth technical session on the first day and Dr Ankush Bhardwaj was the co-chairman of the session.

The second day of seminar saw two technical sessions. Dr Priyatosh Sharma chaired the first technical session of the day two. Dr Ashish Kumar chaired the second technical session of the day. A total of fourteen papers were presented by the scholars in these two sessions.

Every session witnessed some very good papers dealing with newer facets of the freedom movement not only from the national perspective but from the regional aspect as well. For instance, the research paper of Rajendra Sharma on the contribution of tribal region of Himachal Pradesh in the national movement was well received by the chairman and audience of the session. Similarly Banita Rani, a PhD research scholar from the Central University of Himachal Pradesh presented her paper on Mata Durga Arya, a prominent women patriot from Himachal Pradesh but scantily known in the national mainstream history. There were several other presentations, which dealt with the understanding of national movement with the aid of folk songs, folk tales, memories and folk history. The effort was to create a meta-narrative of the national movement from the micro studies based on primary researches in those geographical and social spaces that hitherto have been neglected or overlooked. At the conclusion of every session, there were deliberations on the research papers presented during the course including the question and answers, with expert comments from the chairman and co-chairman of the sessions.

The seminar concluded with the valedictory program that began at 12 noon on 5th December 2021. The chief guest of the program was Prof. Prem Kumar Dhumal, former Chief Minister, Himachal Pradesh. The session was presided over by Prof. Kumar Ratnam, Member Secretary, ICHR, New Delhi. The guests of honour were Shri Virendra Kanwar and Shri Rakesh Pathania, honourable cabinet ministers, Government of Himachal Pradesh. Dr Chetram Garg, Director, Shodh Sansthan Neri, formally welcomed the guests and familiarized the audience with activities and achievements of the Sansthan. Speaking on the occasion Prof. Ratnam apprised the gathering about the direction that history writing should take and the important role that ICHR is playing in funding such groundbreaking researches in history. Prof. Dhumal while paying his tributes to the great visionary of history writing, Thakur Ram Singh, said that it was the high time that we should adopt Bhartiya methods to understand Bharat. The dignitaries released three books in the valedictory function. These were Duggar Tarangini by Mangal Das Dogra, Arhat Kaushik Bakula and Delimitation of [illegible]/Jammu and Kashmir by Sumer Khajuria and Pandit Deendayal Upadhyaya Vichar Darshan by Prof. Arun Kumar. The program concluded with the felicitation of the resource persons, scholars who presented papers in the seminar as well as to the organizing team of seminar.

The national seminar opened new vistas of research on the newer themes pertaining to the national movement in national and regional contexts. Simultaneously, the program also drew attention of the researchers towards indigenisation of the research methodologies in the history of modern Bharat especially on the problems of history writing while dealing with Bharat's struggle for independence.

Shodh Sansthan Neri

The Shodh Sansthan Neri is a research institution located in the district of Hamirpur in the lush green hills of Himachal Pradesh a state also called as Devbhoomi. The institute is devoted to the higher learning in history and culture with clear-cut emphasis on providing newer perspectives and ideas. The institute has been carrying out research in history on the themes of national and regional importance by providing alternative perspectives to established perceptions. The institute is going to complete its two decades of service in the field of fundamental research in history in the year 2022. The Shodh Sansthan Neri can be reached via road from all the major cities of Himachal Pradesh as well as from the neighbouring states. The nearest railway station is at Amb-Andaura (Una) which is at one and half hour drive from the institute. The nearest airport is at Kangra (Gaggal) which is at a two and half hour drive. Envisioned on the sanatana model of Gurukula, the institute offers generous facilities to the researchers, which include a library, reading halls, conference halls, a guesthouse, separate residential facilities for boys and girls with attached baths and a dining hall.

About the Conception and Objectives of the Seminar

In the 19th century an assortment of factors played a vital role in arousing the national sentiment among the Bharatiya subjects of the British Raj. The national struggle for the attainment of Swaraj and Swadharm was not therefore monolithic or one-dimensional. Within the 'mainstream' political nationalism, as espoused by the then political leaderships, there have been varied ideological sub-streams represented by its array of leaders belonging to diverse backgrounds. The national movement therefore came with varying denominators, of which, some have been heavily explored while the others were summarily ignored or were less delved upon. Importantly however, all the denominators have hinged themselves around the Sva factors. On the eve of 75th year of Bharat's independence which the proud nation is celebrating as the Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav, the academic exploration of these Sva factors is the fundamental aim of this seminar. The factors include the role of ethics of sanatana dharma, cultural mores, civilizational ethos, national art, national literature and not the least the unsung men and women in espousing the cause of independence. In the regional context, case of the Himalayan state of Himachal Pradesh is inquisitive to delve upon. A concerted scrutiny and disquisition is thus needed to be initiated into the unexplored facets of the freedom struggle in state in which the role of different strata including the commoners, who had laid their lives, unheard and unsung. The seminar aims to open new vistas of research in our understanding of the Bharat's national movement in general and its extension as well as its implications in Himachal Pradesh, in particular.

Major Themes of the Seminar

The title of the seminar is all encompassing around varied facets that fueled our anti-colonial struggle. However, for the sake of precision vis-ā-vis the thrust areas, this seminar is divided into different Sub-themes but they are not exclusive and academic liberty can be taken within the broad parameters of the seminar's title. Themes to be deliberated will include the following, but are not limited to

1. Ethics of Swaraj, Sarvodya and Swadeshi
2. Dharmic Influences on Bharat's National Movement
3. Socio-Religious Reform Movements and their Impact on Nationalism
4. Literary Nationalism and its Traditions
5. Anti Colonial Art Expressions
6. Indian Women and Independence
7. Reflections on Freedom Struggle in the Himalayas
8. Patriots and Patriotism: Freedom Heroes of Himachal Pradesh
9. Unheard Narratives of the Unsung : Lore, Tales and Legends

Dear Mrs. Punam,

Greetings of the day!

My name is Ritika, and I work for the National Institute of Social Defence (NISD), an apex body under the Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment, Government of India. Hope you are doing extremely well.

NISD prides itself in undertaking various training and awareness generation programs in collaboration with various State Social Welfare Departments, Police Departments, Education Department, etc in the field of Social Defence on issues such as Substance Abuse Prevention, Old Age Care, Beggary Prevention, Transgender Welfare, etc - with an aim of effecting social transformation and promoting gender-inclusive society. (For more details on the organization, you may refer to the link attached- National Institute of Social Defence).

We are planning to organize the 'One Day Online Sensitization Program on the Provisions of The Transgender (Protection of Rights Act), 2019' and Rules, 2020 with students of the Department of Social Work, Central University of Himachal Pradesh. The focus of a program would be mainly on the provisions of the act along with some other relevant topics associated with transgender persons. It will be for approximately 2 hours.

Detailed agenda would be shared along with information on the resource person upon the finalization of dates and time slots and certainly the acceptance of the request by your institution.

I would really appreciate it if you could soon enough confirm any of the following dates- 25th, 26th, or 27th May'2022. Also, I request the contact details of the POC who will coordinate with me on the subject. The end result of this concise, yet detailed program is to upgrade the knowledge and incite sustained behavior change among the students.

Grateful if you could acknowledge receipt of this email. Feel free to reach out in case of concern(s), if any.

ABSTRACT

We investigate the temporal and colour variability of 897 blazars, comprising 455 BL Lacertae objects (BL Lacs) and 442 Flat Spectrum Radio Quasars (FSRQs), selected from the Roma-BZCAT catalogue, using the multiband light curves from the Zwicky Transient Facility (ZTF DR6) survey. Assessing the colour variability characteristics over ∼2 yr time-scales, we found that 18.5 per cent (84 out of 455) BL Lacs showed a stronger bluer-when-brighter (BWB) trend, whereas 9.0 per cent (41 out of 455) showed a redder-when-brighter (RWB) trend. The majority (70 per cent) of the BL Lacs showing RWB are host galaxy dominated. For the FSRQ subclass, 10.2 per cent (45 out of 442) objects showed a strong BWB trend and 17.6 per cent (78 out of 442) showed a strong RWB trend. Hence, we find that BL Lacs more commonly follow a BWB trend than do FSRQs. This can be attributed to the more dominant jet emission in the case of BL Lacs and the contribution of thermal emission from the accretion disc for FSRQs. In analysing the colour behaviour on shorter time windows, we find many blazars evince shorter partial trends of BWB or RWB nature (or occasionally both). Some of such complex colour behaviours observed in the colour–magnitude diagrams of the blazars may result from transitions between the jet-dominated state and the disc-dominated state and vice versa.

Key words: galaxies: active – BL Lacertae objects: general – galaxies: jets – quasars: general.

1 INTRODUCTION

Blazars are a special subclass of active galactic nuclei (AGNs), possessing a relativistic jet directed close to the observer's line of sight (Blandford & Rees 1978; Urry & Padovani 1995). The blazars emit in a very wide range of wavelengths from radio to gamma-ray bands and show violent variability on diverse time-scales ranging from minutes to years (e.g. Hufnagel & Bregman 1992). Their spectral energy distributions (SEDs) are characterized by non-thermal continuum spectra consisting of two components: a low-energy component peaking anywhere from infrared to X-ray frequencies and a high-energy component peaking at frequencies from hard X-rays to TeV gamma-rays. The low-energy component is attributed to the synchrotron radiation emitted by relativistic electrons in the jets (Urry & Mushotzky 1982). While the origin of the high-energy component is not fully understood, it is commonly thought to be due to the inverse-Compton scattering of soft photons by the same relativistic electrons (e.g. Dermer, Schlickeiser & Mastichiadis 1992; Sikora, Begelman & Rees 1994).

Blazars are broadly classified into two categories: BL Lacertae objects (BL Lacs) and flat spectrum radio quasars (FSRQs) (Angel & Stockman 1980), based on the rest-frame equivalent widths (EWs) in their spectra being <5 Å and >5 Å, respectively (e.g. Ghisellini et al. 2011). BL Lacs are further classified into three subcategories depending on the peak frequency of their synchrotron emission: high-, intermediate-, and low-energy peaked BL Lac objects (HBL, IBL, and LBL). The peak frequencies for HBLs, IBLs, and LBLs lie higher than, around, and lower than the optical band, respectively.

The study of blazar variability is an important tool that provides valuable information about their nature. The optical variability of blazars has been a topic of intensive research since their discovery as it affords a unique perspective on accretion disc and jet physics (Wagner & Witzel 1995; Ghosh et al. 2000; Villata et al. 2004; Gupta et al. 2008; Rani et al. 2010; Gu & Ai 2011; Ikejiri et al. 2011; Bonning et al. 2012; Mao & Zhang 2016). In particular, optical brightness variations in blazars are often accompanied by spectral variations that can be revealed by the colour–magnitude (or spectral index–magnitude) correlations (e.g. Ciprini et al. 2003). The analysis of spectral variability is of special interest in the sense that it might constrain the origin of corresponding brightness variations, even when restricted to the optical band (Vagnetti, Trevese & Nesci 2003).

ABSTRACT

We present the accretion disc-size estimates for a sample of 19 active galactic nuclei (AGNs) using the optical g-, r-, and i-band light curves obtained from the Zwicky Transient Facility survey. All the AGNs have reliable supermassive black hole (SMBH) mass estimates based on previous reverberation mapping measurements. The multiband light curves are cross-correlated, and the reverberation lag is estimated using the Interpolated Cross-Correlation Function method and the Bayesian method using the JAVELIN code. As expected from the disc-reprocessing arguments, the $g - r$ band lags are shorter than the $g - i$ band lags for this sample. The interband lags for all, but five sources, are larger than the sizes predicted from the standard Shakura Sunyaev (SS) analytical model. We fit the light curves directly using a thin disc model implemented through the JAVELIN code to get the accretion disc sizes. The disc sizes obtained using this model are on an average 3.9 times larger than the prediction based on the SS disc model. We find a weak correlation between the disc sizes and the known physical parameters, namely the luminosity and the SMBH mass. In the near future, a large sample of AGNs covering broader ranges of luminosity and SMBH mass from large photometric surveys would be helpful in a better understanding of the structure and physics of the accretion disc.

Key words: accretion, accretion discs – galaxies: active – galaxies: nuclei – galaxies: Seyfert – quasars: supermassive black holes.

1 INTRODUCTION

Accretion discs in active galactic nuclei (AGNs) form as a result of inflowing matter on to the central supermassive black hole (SMBH) (Salpeter 1964; Lynden-Bell 1969). Various accretion disc models have been proposed ranging from the standard Shakura Sunyaev (SS) disc (Shakura & Sunyaev 1973), the slim disc (Abramowicz et al. 1988) to more complicated models like the advection dominated accretion disc presented by Narayan & Yi (1995), and the relativistic accretion disc around a Kerr black hole presented by Li et al. (2005). Based on these models, the accretion disc has a temperature profile, with higher temperatures in the inner regions and decreasing temperatures in the outer regions. The growing observational shreds of evidence suggest that the X-ray emission in the innermost regions of the AGN accretion disc is reprocessed as the ultraviolet (UV)/optical continuum flux. Further, the rapid X-ray variability and relative strength of the hard X-ray component point towards the presence of a corona in the proximity of the SMBH, which irradiates the accretion disc. However, the exact size and structure of this corona are not known precisely (e.g. see Meyer-Hofmeister, Liu & Qiao 2017; Arcodia et al. 2019; Sun et al. 2020).

According to the standard SS disc model, the effective temperature T at a particular location in the accretion disc $R_{\rm disc}$ is related to the disc size and the SMBH mass as follows:

where σ denotes the Stefan–Boltzmann constant and G and $\dot{M}$ represent the gravitational constant and the mass accretion rate, respectively. As is evident from this equation, the accretion disc-size (R) scales inversely with the temperature (T) by a power-law index of 4/3.

The photon wavelength (λ_0) at a particular disc radius is related to the temperature by Wein's law. The size of the accretion disc at the wavelength λ_0 can be determined by two observable parameters, the SMBH mass and the mass accretion rate. The radiation from the accretion disc is assumed to be composed of multiple blackbodies, and the disc sizes at various wavelengths can be calculated using the equation below:

Here, R_{λ_0} is the disc size at a reference wavelength λ_0 and β is $4/3 = 1.33$ for the standard SS disc. The temperature profile of the

Dear Prof. Dipankar Banerjee,

On behalf of the Department of "Physics and Astronomical Science" and "Chandra-Science Technology and Astronomy Realisation Club (Chandra-STAR club)" we are honored to invite you to speak at the annual Central University of Himachal Pradesh (CUHP) foundation week. The event is scheduled from 22 January to 26 January 2022. I will be in online mode over zoom due to the ongoing COVID-19 Pedamic.

The CUHP foundation week event, is a full week ongoing program being curated by CUHP in each department, with an audience of about 100-200 our department consisting of mainly BSc-Physics, MSc Physics, PhD and all the faculty of Physics and astronomical sciences, beside also opening it to any other interested CUHP members. The majority of the audience will be without an astronomy background so our broad goal with this public talk will be to share the excitement of our Sun-Earth system and the Universe with the students and faculty members of the university. Also your discussion on the upcoming opportunity in space science in this golden era of mega-astronomy upcoming projects will be a great addition to our event.

We believe your voice would be a critical addition to the CUHP foundation week event and will also strengthen academic activities of CUHP and ARIES under our mutual MoU.

In view of your busy schedule we can accommodate your talk as per your time suitability, though for maximal benefit of the audience we will appreciate it if you can deliver it on 25th Jan 2022 at 3;30-4:30pm (about an hour to 1.5hr duration).

We look forward to your confirmation along with the title and abstract so as to make event flyers along with a zoom link for circulation accordingly.

Thank you in advance for your consideration, and we very much look forward to hearing from you.

Your Sincerely

Dear Prof. Hum,

I am happy to send you this invitation to visit ARIES Nainital, to review and set goals for our ongoing collaboration on the extraction of satellite based weather parameters as needed for your site characterisation to set up CUHP-ISRO 1m-optical telescope. However, we can also discuss other areas of mutual interest for new projects in a collaborative approach. Our institute will be happy to provide local hospitality for the duration of your stay at ARIES. While you are here, we would request you to deliver a talk on your 'recent research work on based on 1m class telescope'. We shall discuss various aspects of the task that your university has undertaken with support from ISRO for the construction of a 1-m optical telescope.

As agreed on mutual convenience, I shall be available during 17-20 Oct 2022, and will suit for our team here as well. You may plan your visit accordingly. Looking forward to see you at ARIES.

Dear Hum Chand,

I am happy to send you this invitation to visit the Aryabhatta Research Institute of Observational Sciences (ARIES), Nainital for two weeks in the month of May 2022 to review and set goals for our ongoing collaboration on extragalactic astronomy. We can also discuss areas of mutual interest between ARIES and CUHP, for new projects related to the 4m International Liquid Mirro Telescope which will see its first light image in the first week of May 2022.

Our Institute will be happy to take care of all aspects of hospitality for the duration of your stay. While you are here, we would also request you to:

(1) Provide us with your input on the ongoing commissioning of the first light of 4m-ILMT at Devsthal based on discussion with our Belgium and Canadian partner.

Respected Sir,

May I request you to allow me duty leave to visit ARIES with which we have MoU. In brief this visit will be highly benefited as it will allow me:

(i) to take feedback for our planned 1m- ISRO -CUHP telescope by discussing various logistics aspects we need for site characterization such as preparing the drawing of the experimental structure etc
(ii) to give feedback on the 4m-International liquid mirror telescope for which I was PI from Indian side and now Belgium and Canadian partner are at the site (till mid of May 2022) for first sky image.
(iii) The duration is ideally suited without affecting the teaching work due to ongoing midterm exam in next two week,

All the expenditure of the visit will come from ARIES so there is no financial requirement for this visit from the CUHP side.

I have also applied in samarth portatal as well with all the details and documents. Prof. Bhag Chand Chauhan has kindly agreed to take the responsibility of my duty as dean during my duty leave.

I plan to go by Sunday night (1am on 2/5/2022) and return by 18/05/2022 (7am) (amounting 10 working days excluding holidays) from the PathanKot direct train which is available only weekly.

I will be extremely thankful for your kind approval on the same, so that I can prepare and inform ARIES accordingly.

Thanking you
Your Sincerely,

With warm regards,
Hum Chand

Dear Dipankar,

Thanks so much for the invitation. Such visit activutiws will allow me to keep involved the exciting project ongoing at ARIES beside active science collaboration.

In view of the mid term exam of university the visit in next two week will suit me without affecting the teaching schedule, with detail as follow:

(1) Arrival: at Kathgodam on 2nd May 2022 at 2pm (train KGM-GARIB RATH 12208).

(2) Departure : from KATHGODAM on 17/05/2022 at 6PM (train JAMMU-GARIB RATH train 12207).

Arranging travel support from University will unfortunately involve lengthy process, so could not arrange it in such a short time now. Therefore I was wondering that will it be possible for ARIES to support also my train Faire alongwith drop/pick up in railway station (i.e at pathankot being about 70km from our university). This will also be very-2 helpful for me.

More detail about logistics and planing I will also discuss with Brijesh, Kuntal, and our foreign ILMT collaboraters as well.

Thanks so much again for all the support and encouragement, and I look forward to have very productive time during this visit to ARIES/Devasthal.

With best regard
Hum Chand

Respected Sir,

Today's forenoon I have reached Shahpur and joined duty after the duty leave for work at ARIES/Devsthal at Nainital.

Initially I have taken two weeks leave (till 18 May 2022), but due to favorable circumstances could complete the work in one week time and hence could reach today back, which will also allow me to take myself the mid-term exam/viva of MSc astronomy course today as well.

Therefore may I request you to please consider me on duty from 2nd May to 10 May 2022 instead of originally proposed from 2nd May to 117 May 2022.

Thanking you
Your sincerely,

Hello everyone,

FYI, the agenda-papers for HRS has been revised and uploaded on g-drive today. You may have a look.

You may note that we prefix the agenda notes PDF file-names with DOMU-A2.x-DOCx, just to keep items sequentially and let the reader easily know the numberof documents each agenda item has.

Thanks for the agenda and the related documents. I could open the uploaded documents.
Are there any feedback from the observers on the performance of the telescope and instruments? If yes, will that be presented in the meeting?

Dear Maheswar,

Thanks for running thru agenda papers. Please find below my comments on your query.

1. Feedback from observers on operational aspects of telescope and instruments, present at each night at site, are recorded on regular basis. A detailed list of night observers feedback can be found in quarterly DOT reports 2020-Q2-Q4;2021-Q1-Q2.

Please refer a separate chapter entitled "User feedback". Hopefully the reports on individual instruments should also contain this information.

2. Feedback on science performance of the system [telescope+ and/or instrument(s)] by proposers (PI) is an important aspect, if you meant this then this feedback has not been collected. One way of getting this information is via DOPSES. We can discuss this.

3. Performances are expected to be presented during the meeting on telescope as well as on individual instruments by the respective teams.

4. Pointing, tracking, and images quality related performance of telescope is mentioned at places in the quarterly DOT reports 2020-Q2-Q3-Q4;2021-Q1-Q2. The team will be presenting an update.

Please elaborate and let us know, if anything specific requires to be included for the sake of discussions.

Thanks
Brijesh

Dear All,

I also feel that user feedback may help in the DOT improvements, especially it is found to be very effective in ESO, by the so called ESO User committee, e.g see few details at (list of document sections):

https://www.eso.org/public/about-eso/committees/uc/uc-44th.html

Worth spending some time to discuss such a possibility in this meeting.

Regards
hum

Dear Amitesh,

Telescope reflectivity values should be recorded periodically especially before and after the coating. These recorded values will be vital to discuss the agenda item A-2.3 (Discussion on the next coating of the primary). Monthly variation of reflectivity values would be good to examine the rate of deterioration of mirror quality.

Dear All,

Good Morning.

As you may be aware that the 2nd DOMU meeting preparation is progressing well.

Two updates :

1. Details agenda papers for A2.4 (tanspec+tircam2) and A2.7 (dopses) added.

2. Agenda 2.9 (any other matter) includes one item now, i.e. a discussion on 'user feedback on DOT' following suggestions from domu members.
for background, some links added to this agenda as shared by Hum.

A request :

1. The Chair has desired that the presentation files can be uploaded before start of Meeting on 28th May 2021 at one place so that He/each-one-of-us can view/refer and this is to avoid last-minute technical issue. This will also allow us to devote more time on discussions. You can upload your PPT files directly under folder 'PRESENTATION-SLIDES'. You have the permission to upload files.

Some information :

1. You can upload the agenda paper PDF files yourself. You have the permission.
So if you make any changes in agenda papers, the revised ones can also be uploaded/replaced.

Let us be connected. Seeing you soon.

With regards,
Brijesh

Good to see compilation of user feedback captured from daily logbook in DOT Quarterly reports. It will be nice to close the issues or remarks made by the users. So we can either come up with an online form to put reply remarks by PI/incharges or evolve some other effective mechanism. Could be a point to discuss tomorrow.

Several of such points for ADFOSC were replied by me directly to the users either via email or phone. Also received several technical queries by users on how to optimize their observations etc. But it will be good to do it in a way so that a record for questions and answers is kept for anyone to see.

Sub: Request for the grant of permission for the Internship of Ms. Anchal Thakur a student of MSW 3rd semester from Jan 01, 2022 to Jan. 21, 2022.

Dear Madam/Sir,

I have the pleasure to introduce you our University and its Master of Social Work (MSW) programme offered by the Department of Social Work in the Central University of Himachal Pradesh. Our university was established under the Central Universities (Amendment) Act 2009 of Indian Parliament. The University is located in Dharamshala (H.P.) and became functional from 20th January 2010.

The Department of Social Work aims to produce trained social work professionals to meet the needs & aspirations of the underprivileged sections of society and contribute to protection and promotion of human rights, social development, community development, sustainable livelihoods, access to health & education, etc. The MSW programme covers professional aspects of Social Work and courses such as Social Casework, Social Group Work, Community Organization and Social Action, Research Methodology, Welfare Administration, Peoples Participation, etc.

Field work is an integrated part of the MSW program and is compulsory for all the students. It gives an opportunity to the students to work in real-life settings. Students get to relate theoretical knowledge with practice settings; and field exposure helps students to develop professional skills, and contextualized analytical and critical abilities. As part of the curriculum the MSW students are required to undergo Summer Placement Training/Internship for a period of 3 weeks (or 21 days) during their semester break or Winter/Summer vacations.

- Gir National Park in Gujarat, western India, is the ultimate destination for nature and wildlife enthusiasts.
- With the wildlife decreasing all around the world, Gir is the only place which has the existence of Asiatic Lion. The park is hilly, and the climate is best suited for other animals along with lions.
- Besides, being the last abode of Asiatic lions, Gir Forests forms a unique habitat for many mammals, reptiles, birds and insect species along with a rich variety of flora.
