Event Detail Report

On January 24, 2025, Department of Environmental Science celebrated the fifth day of the Foundation week of Central University of Himachal Pradesh (CUHP) with great enthusiasm. As part of the celebration, department was marked by a vibrant blend of creativity and cultural expression through an Idea Competition and Cultural programme organized in CR-10 Shahpur campus. The Idea Competition celebration, department was marked by a vibrant blend of creativity and cultural expression through an Idea Competition and Cultural programme organized in CR-10 Shahpur campus. The Idea Competition provided a platform for students to showcase their innovative thinking and problem-solving abilities. Participants presented unique ideas on themes such as fuel, sustainable development, technology for social good, and community welfare. The competition witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across the department. The winning ideas, which included innovative solutions for waste management and renewable energy, were widely appreciated and lauded for their relevance and originality.

The celebration also featured a range of cultural activities that highlighted the rich diversity and talent within the student community. Performances such as traditional dances (Naati), Group songs, and Bollywood dance reflected the cultural heritage of the region while promoting unity and inclusivity. A special highlight of the event was a group performance showcasing the folk traditions of Himachal Pradesh, which received resounding applause from the audience.

The combination of intellectual engagement through the Idea Competition and the colorful display of cultural activities created a lively and inspiring atmosphere on campus. The events fostered creativity, collaboration, and a sense of pride among participants, making the Foundation Week celebration a memorable occasion for all.
